

User-Story 4

As a logged in user, I want to view a list of albums created by the artist whom I'm interested in in order to refresh my memory of the music that the artist has created. I want to have easy access to the album information without having to manually switch to the music platform that I use. I want to see at least 5 albums displayed for the artist I type in the search bar. This artist can be someone whose concert I am planning to attend or someone I'm generally curious about. The page will then search and output a list of albums where the album information should include the cover picture and the album name.
