User-Story 3:

As a user, I want to be able to use my third-party accounts to log in in order to simplify the login process. To facilitate the process, I want to be able to sign up/log in via my Google account. Also, since I am a new user to the site, when I register an account by creating a username and password, I want the system to authenticate my data and prop up an error message if I enter my username or password incorrectly. It would also be neat if I could save my login information on my computer so that I won't have to manually input my credentials whenever I log in. Additionally, I would like to be able to request a new password if I ever forget the old one and have an email sent to me enabling me to change my password.